

embrace . engage . empower

sow a seed cultivate a life

Introducing
SAKHEKILE QOYI

AGE: 19
CURRENT GRADE: 12
COMMUNITY OF ORIGIN: Guqulethu
BELIEF SYSTEM: None

My challenge would be seeking my purpose in life.
I live with my mother, older sister, younger brother, and cousin.
My sister has a 2 year old son and my mother is sick.
I remember when I was 13, with no father, in a horrible school. I would miss my classes because my family situation affected me a lot.
Then at 15, I came across writing and I was able to join a mentorship program in Cape Town that aims to increase HIV awareness among teens using the arts. I think that is why I now want to do something for the youth.
I like it at SOH because I get to connect to people much better. It has more like family feel.
I really admire the staff.
interACT- 'No man can do everything but every man can do something'. Joining your program would allow me to release my full potential which I intend to apply in terms of youth development and generally bringing change and hope in today's society.

ThembaLitsha

Purpose & Destiny

FUTURE PLANS AND NY

I would like to focus on social development, more specifically working with/mentoring youth because that's where our future is at!

I would like to work toward managing and coordinating a youth mentorship project.

NY will help me understand more about differences mankind possess and understand how influential our backgrounds can be, and .

After understanding all the above and more, I want to find strategies and I can apply to tackle obstacles when they come up.

join us in investing in the greatest assets on earth; human lives

www.activecompassiontransforms.org